

LIST OF CONTRIBUTORS

GERHARD BESIER is director of the Hannah-Arendt-Institut für Totalitarismusforschung in Dresden and professor of totalitarianism research at the University of Dresden. He is the author of numerous works, including Der Heilige Stuhl und Hitler-Deutschland: Die Faszination des Totalitären (Munich, 2004).

REBECCA BOEHLING is Associate Professor of History and Interim Director of the Honors College at the University of Maryland Baltimore County. She is the author of A Question of Priorities: Democratic Reform and Economic Recovery in Postwar Germany (Berghahn Books, 1996).

DOROTHEE BRANTZ is Assistant Professor in the department of history at SUNY Buffalo.

MARTIN BURKE is Associate Professor of History and American Studies at the Graduate Center, City University of New York. He is the author of The Conundrum of Class: Public Discourse on the Social Order in America (Chicago, 1995).

SONJA DÜPELMANN is Assistant Professor of Landscape Architecture at Auburn University in Auburn, Alabama, and Visiting Research Fellow at the GHI. She has published a book on the Italian landscape designer Maria Teresa Parpagliolo Shephard (1903–1974).

ANDREAS ETGES is Assistant Professor of North American History at the John F. Kennedy Institute of the Free University of Berlin. In 2005/06 he held a postdoctoral fellowship at the GHI Washington. Among his publications is John F. Kennedy (Munich, 2003).

PATRICK GEARY is Professor of Medieval History at the University of California, Los Angeles. He is the author of numerous books, including The Myth of Nations: The Medieval Origins of Europe (German translation: Europäische Völker im frühen Mittelalter: Zur Legende vom Werden der Nationen).

MISCHA HONECK is the GHI Kade-Heideking Fellow for 2005/06 and a Ph.D. candidate at the University of Heidelberg, Germany.

KENNETH T. JACKSON is Director of the Herbert H. Lehman Center for American History and the Jacques Barzun Professor of History at Columbia University. He is best known for his prize-winning Crabgrass Frontier: The Suburbanization of the United States (New York, 1985).

KONRAD JARAUSCH is co-director of the Zentrum für Zeithistorische Forschung in Potsdam and Lurcy Professor for European Civilization at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill. He is the author of many publications, including most recently, Die Umkehr: Deutsche Wandlungen 1945–1995 (Munich, 2004).

MONIKA MARON is a well-known German author. Raised in the former GDR, she worked as a journalist before writing fiction; unable to publish her work in the GDR, she left for West Germany in 1988. Among her novels are Flugasche (1981), Stille Zeile Sechs (1991), Pawels Briefe (1999) and Endmoränen (2002).

BRIAN McCOOK is the current GHI Thyssen-Heideking Post-Doctoral Fellow at the University of Cologne. He is working on a project examining Polish return migration from Germany and the United States and its influence on Polish society during the interwar period.

HORST MÖLLER is director of the Institut für Zeitgeschichte in Munich and professor of modern and contemporary history at the University of Munich. He is the author of numerous books, including Die Weimarer Republik: Eine unvollendete Demokratie (8th edition, 2006).

JAN PHILIPP REEMTSMA is director of the Hamburger Institut für Sozialforschung and professor of modern German literature at the University of Hamburg. He is the author of numerous publications, including most recently Folter im Rechtsstaat? (Hamburg, 2005).

ELI RUBIN is Assistant Professor in the Department of History at Western Michigan University. He is currently revising the book manuscript based on his dissertation, Plastics and Dictatorship in the German Democratic Republic.

AXEL SCHILDT is director of the Forschungsstelle für Zeitgeschichte in Hamburg and professor of modern history at the University of Hamburg. He is the author of numerous works, including Zwischen Abendland und Amerika: Studien zur west-deutschen Ideenlandschaft der 50er Jahre (Munich, 1999).

JESSE SPOHNHOLZ is Assistant Professor of History at Grinnell College. He is currently revising his dissertation for publication.

JAMES C. VAN HOOK is the joint historian of the U.S. Department of State and the Central Intelligence Agency. He is the author of Rebuilding Germany: The Creation of the Social Market Economy, 1945–1957.

ADELHEID VON SALDERN is Professor for Modern History at the University of Hannover, Emerita since 2004. Most recently, she has edited Inszenierte Einigkeit: Herrschaftsrepräsentationen in DDR-Städten and Inszenierter Stolz: Stadtrepräsentationen in drei deutschen Gesellschaften (1935–1975) (Stuttgart, 2003/2005).

Contributors not listed here are on the staff of the GHI. See inside back cover for more information.