

SUBJECT INDEX

---

This subject index lists all people, regardless of nationality, and American geographical places mentioned in the titles of the works in the bibliography; references are to entry numbers. For pseudonyms, both names are listed, one with a cross-reference to the other (e.g., Clay, Cassius, see Muhammad Ali). Place names include regions, states, cities, rivers, canals, and other geographic landmarks in the United States and other countries on the American continent. Other foreign countries and cities are excluded. When one name refers to two different entities, it is specified whether the entry is a state, a city, or a river. Cities and geographic landmarks are not only listed under their name (with the name of the state given as additional information) but also under their respective states. Exceptions are New York City and entities such as the Rocky Mountains or the Colorado River that cover several states. The names in the index reflect current English spelling conventions; the spellings in the actual entries may differ.
