A EUROPEAN STORY, 1960-2010
VICTORIA DE GRAZIA

THURSDAY, MAY 9, 2013
6:00 – 8:00 PM

GERMAN HISTORICAL INSTITUTE
1607 NEW HAMPSHIRE AVE NW
WASHINGTON DC 20009

Victoria de Grazia is Professor of History at Columbia University and the James R. Barker Professor of Contemporary Civilization. A historian of Europe and Italy, she has written several monographs on twentieth-century Italian history, including How Fascism Ruled Women: Italy, 1922-1945. Her recent work has focused on the globalization of U.S. consumer culture in the twentieth century, culminating in her book Irresistible Empire: America’s Advance through Twentieth Century Europe. A German translation of the book was published in the GHI’s series Transatlantische Historische Studien in 2010.

The Gerald D. Feldman Memorial Lecture was established by the Friends of the German Historical Institute in 2010 to honor the legacy and achievements of Gerald D. Feldman (1937-2007). The lecture is generously supported by the Fritz Thyssen Stiftung and individual donations to the Gerald D. Feldman Memorial Lecture Series Endowment Fund.
